All Trustees of Athens Asylum Are Removed.

NEW BOARD NAMED

Governor Harris Outlines His Policy.

Immediately upon the receipt of the resignation of Trustee John W. Gregg of Waverly, whose removal Governor Harris thought at first would be accomplished only by force, the executive Monday evening announced the successors to the three men who have been deposed for violating their official capacities as trustees of the Athens State hospital.

In making the appointments the governor took the opportunity to outline his policy with reference to the choosing of officials and employees of all state institutions.

He says that during his administration he will hold the managing board responsible for every employee connected with the institution, and will personally refuse to recommend any person for a position. In this stand, which may have the appearance of being a decided departure from methods followed heretofore, the governor outlines his ideas to the effect that past methods have been largely responsible for loose business principles in the institutions. He thinks that if in the past employees had been held directly responsible to the board they would have felt a greater necessity for listening and obeying orders issued by the board. "Pull," he believes, has been the cause for such domineering policy and the defiance with which orders have been neglected. Since the appointments did not come from the board, employees did not believe they were responsible to it.

Notwithstanding the fact that heretofore sub-officials have been selected for their political ability and strength, as well as ability to economically pursue their official duties in the institution, Governor Harris will institute a tremendous reform and will throw aside one of the prerogatives of his office to allow others to select their men. It was because this procedure was not allowed before, he believes, that the trustees can, with a considerable degree of truth, say that they were not responsible for the acts of the steward and other officials.

None of those who have been selected as trustees for the Athens state hospital have been applicants for the places and will be appraised of their selection first through these columns. They are:

Hon. William S. Metcalf, Republican, Bourneville, Ross county, for the unexpired term ending April, 1908; vice Hon. John W. Gregg of Pike county, resigned.

James F. Lawyer, Democrat, Thornville, Perry county, for the unexpired term ending April 1909; vice Hon. William H. Williams of Franklin county, resigned.

Col. C. R. Fisher, Republican, of Wilmington, Clinton county, for the unexpired term ending April, 1910; vice John Kaiser resigned.

Mr. Metcalf was a member of the house in the Seventy-fifth general assembly, and is well known throughout the state. He was a member of Governor Harris's regiment, the Seventy-fifth, in the civil war.

Col. Fisher is editor of the Wilmington Journal, is a leader in the Sixth congressional district, and well known over southern Ohio. He was a member of Gov. Bushnell's staff.

The new members will be officially notified tomorrow of their appointments and will be asked to report in Columbus at the governor's office some day early next week. At that time they will meet the other board members, Roscoe J. Mauck of Gallia county and Chris McKee of Noble, and fix the time for the meeting at which they will select such new officers and employees of the institution as they see fit. Because of the new ruling of Governor Harris it is impossible at this time to say who stands in line for places under the new board. It is very probable, however, that there will be a number of changes at the first meeting and others from time to time till there has been a thorough house-cleaning in the institution.

A Large Funeral.

The body of James Young, who was shot and killed by the Marshal in Murray City, Hocking County, was brought to his former home at Glen Roy on Saturday, and the funeral party was brought to Jackson Sunday afternoon on a special train over Hocking Valley railway, chartered by the Wellston lodge of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, of which the deceased was a member. The funeral was held in the Jackson M. E. church where members of his family attended, Rev. B. D. Evans officiating, and the Eagles ritual was used, with Dr. W. S. Hoy, of Wellston, in charge.

The funeral procession was headed by the Eagles, accompanied by the Jackson Military Band and the Order of Red Men of which he was also a member.—Jackson Standard.

The Commissary.

EDITOR'S MUST PAY.

The Railroad Passenger Association met last week and unanimously agreed to cancel all contracts with newspapers throughout the state in the matter of exchanging transportation mileage for advertising. General Passenger agent W. H. Fisher of the Hocking Valley Ry. has so notified all newspaper men along his lines, saying that he will arrange for his advertising on a cash basis. Prior to the passage of the two-cent railroad rate law, this might have proved a hardship to the many newspaper men that are compelled to do some traveling to solicit business, but now it does not mean such a hard blow. Mr. Fisher has certainly been a friend to the newspaper men along his lines, and we retire from the exchange as reluctantly as he, and wish him years into old age of good health and happiness. He is every inch a man.

Burton's Statement.

Theodore E. Burton made a statement, in which he said:

"Of course, I had hoped for more successful results, but, so far as my own efforts are concerned, no beginning was made until the end of the last month, while on the other side was an organization which has been formed for many years and which by its varied ramifications is extremely powerful in state politics.

"The movement will be continued for the essential principles for which I have contended. It is my desire to oppose bossism and the centralization of power in a few political leaders, both of which have become so marked in American politics in recent years."

Mrs. A. J. Ward, of New Lexington, was the guest of Mrs. S. E. McBride and family last week, and also, with Mrs. McBride, visited friends in Wellston, Friday and Saturday.

Barbers' License.

The state organization of the International Union of Journey-men Barbers in session Sunday in Trades and Labor assembly hall, decided to demand of the legislature a law compelling barbers to take out a license before doing work for the public. This law is intended to compel barbers to keep clean shops and sterilized razors, and in other ways keep up to date places of business. The business will be under direct state supervision and will become sanitary and safe from disease, if the law is given.

COAL WILL RISE IN PRICE.

With miners working but little more than half time and expenses of operating no greater, there comes from some of the coal operators the talk of a still farther increase in the price of coal at the mines.

The price paid generally for a good grade of Hocking coal is now $1.75 per ton, and the price predicted is $2.00. Operators say that the demand for their product is so great and the possibility of getting sufficient cars to market the coal so remote, that they can easily get the added 25 cents per ton.

The date set for the rise in price is October 15.

The sale of seats for "My Wife's Family," Stephens and Linton's merry musical farce, will open at Billson's Drug Store Saturday morning. This laughable vehicle has met with universal endorsement of the press and public wherever it has been presented, calling forth the highest praise for its consistency of story, bright comedy lines, complicated humorous situations and catchy musical numbers. This attraction will be seen here Monday, October 15.
